GUARD THAT RATION BOOK

Consumers who lose their ration books could save unnecessary trouble to both themselves and the ration office if they took a few prior precautions, says C. G. McKee, regional rationing superintendent of the War-time Prices and Trade Board.

Fill in cover spaces provided for address and telephone number, Mr. McKee advises. This will facilitate easy return to consumers by the ration office, where stray ration books must be taken.

It is a criminal offence to use ration books which do not belong to a consumer of the same household, but ration books which not only carry the additional details of address and telephone number are more open to abuse if they fall into the wrong hands, Mr. McKee explained.

Mr. W. H. Hayne succeeds Mr. W. Innes as manager of the Royal Bank branch at Bellevue. Mr. Innes has retired.

Frank Dillon, manager of the Hotel Newall at Brooks for the past nine years, has been appointed manager of the Mount Royal Hotel at Banff.

J. H. MCLEAN, M. A.

The following is clipped from the May issue of the Alberta Teachers' Alliance Magazine:

It was with deep regret that the teachers of Alberta and the Department of Education learned the loss of a beloved superintendent, J. H. McLean, M.A., of the Holden Division, who passed away last March after a prolonged period of failing health.

Mr. McLean was born in Minnesota in 1898 and attended high school in Red Deer, Alberta. His experience in the field of teaching was gained in this province. He attended the Calgary Normal School, obtained his B.A. and M.A. at the University of Alberta and taught at Alx and Killam before going to Bellevue, where he was principal of the high school for thirteen years. At Bellevue, Mr. McLean was interested in athletics and also took an active part in the social welfare work of the community. He was an ardent participant in ATA affairs and was president of the Crows' Nest Pass Local at the time of his appointment to the inspectorial staff. Few people knew of Mr. McLean's fervent loyalty to the ATA, exemplified by his foregoing an excellent position rather than sacrifice ATA principles. His quiet, amiable, yet forceful personality and his presence endeared him to his associates, whether subordinates or superiors.

On behalf of the teachers of this province, we extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

SPECIAL COMMITTEES TO BE ARRANGED

The end of the war in Europe will witness the return of all casualties to veterans' hospitals in Canada. In order to assist in obtaining the necessary nursing staff, special committees are being established at points across Canada where the hospitals are located.

The duties of these committees will be to confer on methods of augmenting nursing staffs, to undertake the provision of all necessary information to graduating nursing students and to make arrangements for the convenience of students in submitting their applications.

The committee will consist of a district representative of the Civil Service Commission, to act as chairman, with representatives from both the nurses association and the local employment and selective service office.

Clarifying on the personnel of the committees, it was stated that the regional office will designate a member of the staff of the women's division from the local offices concerned as a representative. Mrs. Rex Eaton, associate director, National Selective Service, is making the necessary arrangements with the Canadian Nurses Association for their nominations to local committees.

JOHN BRACKEN

STANLEY WYATT

"In this historic riding of Macleod we have 185 Grain Elevators, with a storage capacity of a little more than 10 million bushels; and grain men at their head offices in Calgary and Winnipeg tell me that this is one of the top-notch grain producing Constituencies in Western Canada.

"Insofar as the raising of beef cattle is concerned, there isn't any doubt that the Macleod Riding is the greatest Ranching Riding in all Canada.

"The Macleod Riding contains the south half of the greatest Oil Field in Canada; and in the Crows' Nest Pass and in other places within the riding, there are millions of tons of Coal.

"In the Macleod Riding we enjoy the mildest climate of any of the Constituencies of the Western Prairies, and are adjacent to beautiful parks and unsurpassed mountain scenery.

"From out of these mountains to the west flow rivers that will eventually be used for irrigation.

"Truly we have a riding to be proud of, and all we need is a Progressive Government to make it one of the most prosperous parts of Canada."

Danger Of Inflation

THROUGHOUT THE EUROPEAN WAR, the people of Canada were constantly warned of the danger of inflation. With the co-operation of the public, however, price controls, wage ceilings and other anti-inflation measures have been carried out, with the result that the cost of living here has risen very little in comparison with that of many other countries. Had living costs gone up to the extent often experienced in time of war, the people at home would have had a much more difficult time, and the war effort as a whole would no doubt have suffered. The inconveniences of attempting to keep wages and prices stabilized have been many, but the people have appeared to realize that these inconveniences are small, compared to the economic chaos which accompanies inflation.

Pacific War May Be Long

Since the Canadian Army and a large part of the Navy and Air Force have for over five years been in service in Europe, the end of hostilities there has meant that, for a time at least, the strain and anxiety of war has been eased for many people here. The gradual conversion of some war industries to the production of civilian goods has added to the feeling that we are entering upon a much less critical phase of hostilities. There is danger, however, in failing to realize that our forces will soon be involved in the war in the Pacific and that there is no indication now that the struggle there may not go on for some time. It must also be realized, that as long as we are at war, there is danger of the evils which accompany it, and that one of these evils is inflation. Lack of vigilance now would undo all that has been accomplished since 1939, and would in addition, destroy our opportunities for stability in the reconstruction period.

Public Support Must Continue

Vigilance will also be necessary during the time that the armed forces are being demobilized and war industries converted to peacetime production. The first year and a half following World War I saw a rapid rise of prices and it is believed that there is danger of the same thing happening when this war ends if the people fail to support price controls and other precautions against inflation. Finance Minister Ilesley, in a statement on this subject said, "Sharply rising prices in the demobilization and reconstruction period would undoubtedly be followed by inflation and serious unemployment. Canada experienced a long period of unemployment and depression shortly before the war, and there is no one who would wish to see these conditions return. Public restraint in spending, and co-operation in maintaining stability of wages and prices even after the war is ended, will be one important factor making for security in the future."

HOW YOU CAN GET QUICK RELIEF FROM SORE, PAINFUL PILES

Most people seem to think the only way to get relief from their sore, painful piles is by local treatment. They may give temporary relief from the itching but you can easily see why such treatment will not correct the cause of your piles. No lasting freedom from pile misery can be had by local treatment. The cause of the trouble is internal. Piles are due to internal causes so the best way to get lasting relief is to treat them internally with the medicine like Hem-Hold. Hem-Hold is the only medicine that has been used for over 20 years by thousands of pile sufferers. It is a highly concentrated, non-toxic formula. This cleverly compounded formula directs its medical action directly to the site of the piles, the cause of the trouble. Hem-Hold promotes free and unobstructed blood movement, quickly relieves itching and irritation and causes the piles to better blood circulation in the lower bowel. With good blood circulation in the lower bowel the painful pile tumors soon heal over leaving the sensitive rectal area clean and healthy. We invite you to try Hem-Hold and let it prove itself. You can make your test, in the privacy of your own home. NO COST to you. You are not convinced that this is an amazingly effective method of treating your sore, painful piles. Package of Hem-Hold today from any drug store and use it. Hem-Hold is directed for 10 days. At the end of that time if you are not absolutely sure Hem-Hold is the most effective and most effective pile treatment you have ever tried, return the unused portion of your drug package and he will promptly refund your money. NOTE: This generous offer is backed by a good many years of business in Canada. Hem-Hold must be used in the condition quickly, easily and pleasantly or the simple, easy test costs you nothing. Try it today.

Well Fed

Canada Has Least Reason To Complain About Food Shortage

What we ought all to remember is that, except for butter and sugar, Canada is now better fed than ever before. Our production of food has increased enormously during the war, in spite of labor and other shortages, and although much of our output is exported, quite enough food is left here to meet all reasonable requirements. Of all the world's countries, Canada has at this moment probably the least reason to complain about its food position.—Brookville Recorder and Times.

Just Another Citizen

Princess Juliana Was Thoroughly Democratic Visitor In Canada

Princess Juliana, the heir apparent to the throne of the House of Orange who has now returned to her people freed at last from the Nazi yoke, was a most kindly, friendly and thoroughly democratic visitor in Canada. She lived quietly and simply at her home in Rockcliffe, a residential suburb of the capital. At any time she might be seen walking bareheaded along its winding streets with friends, usually her neighbors, or with her children. She put her foot down on the idea of sending her two daughters to a private school. When she took them to the public school she told the headmistress not to "tell stories about fairy princesses or any stuff like that." Her children were to be treated exactly the same as anybody else. They were to mix with all the other children and become their friends. And so they have. Princess Juliana seemed to like the informality of her life here. In her own home when servants were hard to get she helped to do the housework and frequently did the cooking for the family, according to a recent story written by Morris McDougall. She was an active voluntary worker at the Supermarket Shop, which is run by ladies of Ottawa for the benefit of the Red Cross. She has been just "Juliana," at her own insistence, to her friends of the shop who she has helped eagerly, enthusiastically, and energetically. With her heart full of the needs of her country she always had her eyes open for anything sold in the shop that might be of value to her people. "I want to buy that overcoat," she would say. "It is a long one and the men in my country are tall, you know," and the coat would be added to the large collection of goods that she prepared for the day when they could be delivered.

Not Good Mine Layers

Japs Not As Clever At Concealment As Germans Were

The Japanese have a good assortment of land mines but aren't nearly the masters of their employment that the Germans proved themselves in Europe. Capt. L. B. Publicover, of Edmonton and Montreal, who was in Sicily and Italy with the Canadian Engineers, has been in the Pacific several months as an observer of American and Japanese engineering methods. The Japanese have effective standard mines but conceal them poorly, or often use grenades, shells, bombs or torpedo heads instead. "They don't use them with any kind of thoroughness."

War Souvenir

Olympic Runner From Canada Finds Photo Of Himself In Germany
Dr. Joe Goebels has admittedly produced a few surprises in his time but for "Mushy" Limon, 36, of Vancouver, a shell-shattered house near the deflated doctor's Gladbach (Germany) estate takes the spotlight.

Curiosity prompted the former city sprinter and Olympic runner to wander into the ruins.

Of the once expensive furnishings only a small table remained intact.

And on that table the amazed airman noticed a framed picture.

Goggle-eyed, he took another look.

It was a picture of himself, accepting the baton from Phil Edwards in the Olympic relay. The photo was taken in Berlin in 1936.

Limon has it now—his most cherished souvenir of the war.

"Mush" now somewhere in Germany with the City of Ottawa Squadron, was based at Nindhoven when he wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Limon, West Vancouver.

SMILE AWHILE

Flyti: "What did your husband think about that expensive new hat you bought last week?"
Flo: "He just raved about it!"

"What was it you wanted to tell me?" asked the boy on the porch.
"Oh," said the girl, "it was just that mother last night asked me to ask you if you wanted to ask my father anything; he's going out of town tomorrow."

Wife—"How can we estimate our cost of living?"
Husband—"That's simple; take our income and add 50 per cent."

After giving the private a dressing down for being so late in returning with the supplies, the sergeant demanded: "Okay, let's hear how it happened, Miller."

"Well, I picked up a chaplain along the road," explained the woe-begone rookie, "and from then on the mules couldn't understand a word I said."

First Shopper—"Why are you racing around on a hot day like this?"
Second Shopper—"I'm trying to get something for my husband."

First Shopper—"Have you had any offers?"

"All men who are fond of music, two paces forward" bawled the top sergeant.

When half a dozen erks had stepped forward, with visions of getting free tickets to a concert, the sergeant added: "O.K., you six mugs—come along, we've gotta plan to move."

The weary father was marching up and down at 1 a.m. with a walling infant in his arms, when there came a knock on the door. It was the tenant from below, carrying a pair of new shoes.

"I say, old man," he said, "while you're about it, you might break these for me."

A man running after a tramcar, paused to the conductor: "How much to the station from here?"

"Twopence," replied the conductor.

The man continued to run, and having covered another stretch, inquired breathlessly of the conductor: "How much now?"

"Threepence," retorted the conductor, "You're running the wrong way."

"Do you think our new neighbors are desirable people?" asked the man of the house.

"Oh, yes," replied the wife, "I watched them unload their belongings. They have a lawn mower and their own garden tools."

An English tourist travelling in the North of Scotland, far away from anywhere, exclaimed to one of the natives:

"Why, what do you do when any of you are ill? You can never get a doctor."

"Nae, air," replied Sandy, "We've just to dee a natural death."

Merchandise Junked Before War Selling Well In Paris Shops

The big department stores of Paris, which were showing deficits year after year before the war, have experienced a sudden prosperity. The Bon Marche, for instance, showed a loss of 21,000,000 francs in 1938 but had a profit of 23,000,000 in 1944. The stores are now selling out at a good profit all the broken, outmoded, and rejected merchandise which they junked in the warehouse before the war.

NOT HIS FAULT

Two American soldiers who had just arrived in Britain found the telephone boxes somewhat confusing. One of them was trying to make a call.

After manoeuvring with buttons A-B and dialing the operator, he had just pressed one of the buttons when a V bomb exploded nearby. Stumbling out on his knees, and covered with dust, he found his pal flat on the pavement somewhat hurt. He said: "Honest, Joe, all I did was press button A."

Bomber Group Will Return To Canada By Air

OTTAWA—Scores of planes and hundreds of men of the R.C.A.F. Sixth Overseas Bomber Group shortly will start back to Canada by air, Air Vice-Marshal Frank McGill announced here. He added the big Lancasters would carry their crews, their equipment and some key groundmen in a movement that would be completed by autumn.

Back from a tour of the European theatre, Vice-Marshal McGill, the R.C.A.F.'s supply and organization chief, said it would be the first organizational movement to Canada of its kind.

He declined to disclose the eventual destination of the big, night heavies but presumably they will fly on to Pacific bases after regrouping here.

Vice-Marshal McGill said air officials were not worried about recruiting men for the Pacific campaign.

"I would say," he said, "that with only a little sales talk we could get 50 per cent. of our present aircrew strength."

"And they won't need that many, although the size and nature of the force has not been decided. This decision is being delayed until the problem of supplying bases has been solved."

He said the occupational air force had settled down to the big chore of impressing the Germans there was power behind the security watchdog. R.C.A.F. squadrons would fly regular tight formation flights over a sector of Germany and intersperse this activity with gunnery and bomb practice so that the Germans would know they mean business.

He hoped that the wives of occupation airmen would be able to join their husbands at the German stations.

FOR ARMY TRAINING

Youths Between Fifteen And Sixteen Called Up In Russia

MOSCOW—All Soviet youths of the eighth and ninth grades—between 15 and 16 years old—have been called for army training. It has been announced.

In announcing the call-up, which he said would be 100 per cent., Lt. Gen. N. N. Frenkel, chief of administration of general training of the peoples' commissariat for defence, declared "the general military training in the present period would be conducted on an even higher level than in the days of war."

The new program is the largest training schedule ever ordered for peacetime in Russia.

Gen. Frenkel said "there should not be a single youth to miss these musters."

The 15 and 16-year olds will receive military training in the field from the best veterans of the Second Great War.

This training of the two classes follows upon the graduation of the seventh class of 17-year-olds who will undergo examinations for officers specialists.

GAS RATION BOOKS

Are Now Handled By Regional Offices Of Oil Controller

OTTAWA—Regional offices of the oil controller throughout Canada took over June 1 the handling of all applications for gasoline ration books and will issue all books, the munitions department announced.

Formerly the provincial issuers of motor vehicle licences issued all "AA" gasoline ration books while the oil control regional officers handled the special category books. The handling of books is now centralized with the oil control offices.

NETHERLANDS ARMY

About 200,000 Men Will Take Part In Pacific Fight

NEW YORK—James M. De Booy, minister of war of the Netherlands, has advised Dutch military authorities to "start the reorganization of the Netherlands armed forces as fast as possible." He said the Netherlands army, numbering about 200,000 men, was to "participate in the fight against Japan," an ABSIE (American broadcasting station in Europe) broadcast recorded by the office of war information reported.

Plans Are Made For Return Of Overseas Forces

OTTAWA—Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced that provisional arrangements have been made for the return to Canada during the next six months of all Canadian service personnel who have been overseas more than four years, except those who will serve with the army of occupation and certain key personnel. In a prepared statement, Mr. King also announced that all casualties who could be moved would be home by July 31.

He said that 35,000 men were scheduled for the occupation force in Germany. Previously, it had been announced that the army contingent under Maj.-Gen. Chris Vokes would total 25,000 men. It had also previously been announced there would be an R.C.A.F. contingent of unspecified strength. However, on the basis of the statement, it was reasonable to assume the R.C.A.F. police force would consist of about 10,000 men. Mr. King spoke of demands on shipping and said the possibilities of wider use of air transport were being investigated. Canada's big repatriation problem also included plans for the movement to the Dominion of about 30,000 dependents of Canadian service men overseas. He said Canadian naval ships would be used exclusively for the repatriation of their own overseas personnel. The two hospital ships—Lady Nelson and Leitis—are shuttling the Atlantic in returning the casualties and first class accommodation on other ships is also being used for this purpose.

However, priority on the available shipping space would be in order to operational forces heading for the Pacific, casualties who could be moved and liberated prisoners of war. Mr. King's statement added: "... and it is expected that all personnel in these categories will be in Canada by autumn."

Mr. King said the present strength of the service overseas and on the Atlantic is approximately 400,000 while the Canadian forces remaining for the occupation of Germany have been set at about 35,000. This would indicate there were 365,000 to be eventually repatriated. The navy is not participating in the European service force but is continuing mine sweeping operations.

The statement added: "In view of the large number of men and women awaiting repatriation to Canada and the shipping situation at the present time, it is not possible to forecast accurately the date when repatriation movements will be finally completed. However, the government will continue to employ every means within its power to secure shipping for the earliest possible return of all its service men and women overseas."

OTTAWA—To clear up some confusion in connection with votes for youthful servicemen, chief electoral officer Jules Castonguay reaffirmed that honorably discharged volunteer servicemen under 21 years may vote in the Dominion election June 11.

He said all they had to do was go to the nearest navy, army or air force election officer with proof of at least six months' service and cast their ballots. Navy veterans would vote at the nearest navy voting bureau and other veterans would vote with their own services.

Casualties In British Empire Armed Forces

LONDON—Prime Minister Churchill announced that during the first 56 months of the war—up to the end of February, 1945—British "empire" forces had suffered 1,128,315 casualties, including 307,201 killed.

The reported death toll was only a little more than a third as large as that of the empire during the 52 months of the First Great War.

The figures included casualties from all war fronts, including the Far East, 10 Downing Street said.

In reporting to the house of commons, Mr. Churchill said that additional losses were inflicted upon the civilian population of Britain by enemy bombardment. He said civilian casualties totalled 60,585 killed, 86,175 seriously injured and upwards of 150,000 slightly injured.

Mr. Churchill listed British military casualties during the First Great War as 3,286,000, including 998,230 dead.

Defence headquarters in Ottawa announced May 11 that Canada suffered 102,875 casualties in the army, navy and air force, including 37,208 dead and 3,769 missing, up to May 7, the end of the war in Europe.

The army suffered 79,774 casualties including 21,478 dead. The R.C.A.F. casualties totalled 20,702, including 13,858 dead, while the navy had 2,399 casualties, including 1,870 dead.

Selective Service Looking Over Industries Which Could Employ Women

OTTAWA—Arthur MacNamara, selective service director, announced here that a survey to be completed July 1 would be made in the chief industrial centres of employment for which women can be trained. The survey was decided on after recommendations from L. E. Westman and Mrs. Rex Eaton, associate selective service directors.

REMOVING SHELTERS

LONDON—Surface air raid shelters now are being removed in London. The brick structures with concrete roofs are shattered by a huge chunk of granite dropped on them by a travelling crane.

AWARDED O.B.E.—Major J. Douglas MacFarlane, native of Ottawa, former Toronto newspaperman and editor of the Maple Leaf, Canadian Army newspaper overseas, has been made a member of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire. His wife resides in Chatham, Ont.

EMPIRE TROOPS

Will Extend Hospitality During Their Stay In Britain

LONDON—Prime Minister Churchill suggested to the house of commons that the best way Britons can show their appreciation of the contribution to victory made by empire servicemen "is to extend every hospitality to individual members of those forces" during their stay in Britain.

Sir Jocelyn Lucas suggested a parade of empire troops through London.

Mr. Churchill said a parade would be difficult to arrange, for apart from the Canadians most empire troops in Britain were returned prisoners of war, anxious to get home as quickly as possible. But he said the suggestion would be borne in mind.

TALKS WITH HOOVER

President Truman Seeks Information On Feeding People In Europe

WASHINGTON—President Truman has invited former President Herbert Hoover to the White House for a conference on the food situation in Europe.

The former president was food administrator in the First Great War and made several trips to Europe during and after that war to arrange for feeding the starving in Belgium and other countries.

A secretary said the president "felt that Mr. Hoover had information which would be valuable to him."

Yokohama Raid Great Cause Of Worry To Japan

SAN FRANCISCO.—Tokyo radio said the American incendiary raid on Yokohama left 250,000 inhabitants of Japan's second largest port homeless with 40,000 houses destroyed, but the count of dead and injured would take some time to compile.

The city's communications and transportation lines were knocked out, providing more war worries for Premier Kantaro Suzuki, who conferred with six former premiers of the empire.

While the broadcast, heard by the federal communications commission, gave no details of subjects discussed by Suzuki and some of his ministers with ex-premiers, Domei agency hinted at the agenda with the report that the nation was filled "with trepidation" over the raid damage to the Imperial palace.

The former premiers attending the conference were Ito, Kuniaki Koiso, Hideki Tojo, Baron Kichiro Hiranuma, Prince Fumimaro Konoye, Keisuke Okada and Koki Hirota.

Other broadcasts emanating from Tokyo reported seven more Japanese admirals had died in battle, bringing the total to more than 100 in less than a year.

YOUTH SUNDAY

Preparations Made For Observance Throughout Canada

Preparations for the seventh observance of Empire Youth Sunday throughout Canada and the British Commonwealth-Empire are well under way. The day selected by common consent is June the Tenth. The Canadian Committee represents all the Church Communities and the nine Provincial Education Departments of the Dominion.

As the European war has terminated on a triumphant note there is all the more reason for emphasizing the things of the spirit for which the anniversary stands.

His Majesty, the King, Patron of the movement, has declared that Empire Youth Sunday reminds the younger generation of the ideals which have sustained the Empire in past trials—ideals which, we should hand on to future generations. For in youth's hands lies much of the shaping of the post-war world. His Majesty's message to the Empire on Christmas Day, 1944, contained this impressive sentence: "We long for a new birth of freedom and order among all nations so that happiness and concord may prevail."

Hitler has shown us that the young can be moulded into a definitely evil type. We have in mind a very different culture inculcated by different methods. The object in view is a spiritual mobilization of the youth of the Empire and of the world.

Announcement will be made later in regard to trans-Atlantic Youth Sunday broadcasts from Westminster Abbey and other churches in Britain and from Canadian churches. In each of the past four years, the address at the Abbey Service has been given by a young man in His Majesty's Forces, and it is hoped that this year the speaker may be a member of the First British Airborne Corps.

The material as well as the spiritual value of holding the Empire together with increasing power for good has been illustrated during the War by the primary role which the British peoples played in standing alone against an all-powerful enemy for a whole year after France fell, until our Allies got ready to enter the struggle.

CONTROL URGED

Lord Vanitsitt Says Science In Germany Must Be Watched

LONDON—Creation of an inter-Allied panel of scientists to control and if necessary prevent, German use of any scientific discovery "dangerous to mankind has been urged by Lord Vanitsitt.

Declaring "the science of destruction has got out of hand," he told the house of lords that if the Germans V-1 and V-2 and V-3 weapons had been brought into action a year earlier "it would probably have meant the end of this island."

"Had they been brought into action at the beginning of the war, it would have meant the destruction of civilization . . . We have had the very devil of a lesson and it would be our fault if we have another."

VICTORY—WHAT NEXT?

Two generations of young Canadian manhood has been squandered in preserving democracy's right to exist as a way of life for nations. In World War I, those who returned had received rigorous training, learned qualities of discipline and teamwork and how to give everything for one great united effort. Officers, both young and old, had given magnificent leadership and fatherly concern to their men, and came back to Canada richer in many ways than when they left.

Somehow we made the fatal mistake of expecting to resume life on a basis of selfish interests and an ever-increasing standard of living. Fighting men do not find it easy to settle down to the dull routine of civilian life. All the restlessness, the highly strung nerves, for the most part found outlet in faster cars, bigger houses, more and more liquor, a growing divorce rate, nervous subnormal children. As we all grew richer materially, the fighting qualities which won the war went down the drain of selfish living.

Large numbers of our men will be back in Canada before long and the same opportunity will be here again. How wonderful to have them home!—and to know that together we can go forward to meet the future. Surely all the gratitude, the relief, the joy—every emotion the human heart is capable of feeling—can find its best expression in a determination to fight on! We must secure the peace and build a new world, or it will be taken over by alien ideologies which care nothing for the dignity of the human soul—everybody's human soul.

Every man coming home from fighting dictatorship abroad will be hungry for news of the following at home: The different races beginning to know and draw the best from each other; sections of the country giving up resentments and beginning to pull together; management and labor building the kind of trust and teamwork in industry that will give returning men a sense of security and hope for the future; husbands and wives, after years of separation, quickly finding a common meeting ground and a working relationship in the fight for a new world.

Evidence of the above is our best way to show gratitude for the sacrifices of our fighting forces. Every Canadian has a part in such a programme for post-war Canada.

FRENCH AIR STRENGTH IS GROWING

Speaking before the French consultative assembly, Mr. Charles Tillon, minister for air, announced that the French air strength is greater today than in 1939. The air force comprises 118,000 men, of whom 8,000 are officers, and at the end of May will have a total enlistment of 160,000 men as against 85,000 at the beginning of 1939.

While all aeroplane factories were idle in September, 1944, with 80,000 workers and technicians unemployed, there are 70,000 workers employed today, Mr. Tillon said. French type planes will be built in a programme costing 40 billion francs. Some of the aircraft will attain a speed of 500 miles an hour. Three hundred and fifty landing fields have been repaired since the liberation.

The air budget for 1945 will be 30 billion francs as against 27 billion in 1939.

Canned, blended grapefruit-and-orange juice to satisfy Canada's nutritional needs of vitamin C will arrive in limited quantities from the United States, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announces.

mitments to the armed forces. The price of the blended juice, struck between the two types, will be higher than the established price of grapefruit juice.

JOBS ASSURED BEFORE DEMOBILIZATION

A Square Deal for Veterans Assured by Progressive Conservatives

The very first clause of the Progressive Conservative plans for the re-establishment of Veterans, adopted at the National Convention of December, 1942, is as follows:—

DEMOBILIZATION

In carrying out the demobilization of Canada's Armed Forces the primary consideration should be the interest of those who have served. Demobilization should be based on the principle that members of the Armed Forces should not be discharged until their economic security is assured by placement in gainful employment or by assisted training and education to that end.

Here, in this simple statement of progressive, realistic policy is the only true solution of the fundamental problem by which every ex-service man and woman is faced. It is the only assurance of a square deal for all veterans. It is the very basis of the Rehabilitation Policies of the Progressive Conservative Party. No veteran will be discharged against his will until he is assured of a decent livelihood.

"Platitudes will not fill empty stomachs," declares John Bracken, "nor generalities provide jobs for those who have fought, nor wordy declamations about sacrifice ease the load of the widows and children whose husbands and fathers gave life itself that we might live in peace and security."

Throughout the war, Canadian service men and women have had their fill of platitudes and generalities.

Let our veterans now ask themselves this question. Does the spirit of political partisanship which the King Government has consistently manifested in time of war, offer any assurance of a square deal for veterans in time of peace? Does the iniquitous manpower policy which split Canada apart reflect the right spirit? Remember in war, as in peace, political policies infallibly indicate party principles.

It is significant that more than half of the Progressive Conservative candidates are service and ex-service men. No other party can even approach this record. These men know that no other party has such realistic and comprehensive plans for rehabilitation. They know that the Progressive Conservative Party is the service men's party.

They know that John Bracken, father of three sons on active service, understands the problems, the hopes and the fears of veterans.

They say, with John Bracken

"The cost of winning the war and the cost of re-establishing those who fought in it, is one and indivisible. In the plainest words at my command, I say to you that nothing short of full-time gainful employment for every man and woman who has worn the Canadian uniform will be acceptable. Every man and woman must be given an opportunity to earn a good living. If existing enterprise cannot do this, the State must, and will."

These service and ex-service candidates, with John Bracken, pledge themselves that, under no circumstances, will existing benefits to veterans be lessened. On the contrary, they will be increased and extended.

They, with John Bracken, pledge themselves to revise an out-moded pensions act, to humanize its administration, to eliminate red tape and inexcusable delays. Pension rates will be reviewed at once and increased to bring them in line with higher living costs.

Under a Progressive Conservative government, recorded condition of personnel on enlistment will be accepted as sufficient proof in determining disability pension. The veteran will be entitled to the benefit of the doubt.

The "first in, first out" principle will be followed on demobilization—with a job at decent pay assured to the veteran when he returns to "civvy" street.

In the words of our leader, we of the Progressive Conservative Party, "accept the challenge to demonstrate to you who fought that you shall not be handicapped in days of peace because you responded to the nation's call in days of war."

He will place Macleod constituency squarely in support of closer international co-operation to improve and stabilize world trade, bring about a general lowering of tariffs, and enforce an international monetary system to stabilize currency. At home, William Arland will sponsor the immediate consideration of federal-provincial co-operation to aid in research and planning for industrial development in the West, including water power development and rural electrification. NEW DISEASE MASTERY

By changing a newly-born baby's blood British doctors have mastered a hitherto incurable disease. This disease, called erythroblastosis foetalis, is now known to be due to a discrepancy between the blood groups of parents and has hitherto proved fatal.

The mother of the baby had given birth to three previous children, none of whom had survived. Three weeks before her fourth confinement a caesarian operation was performed. Immediately afterwards as much blood as possible was taken from the newly-born infant. The doctors then replaced this by a blood transfusion, which was repeated daily for just over a week. Within six weeks of its birth the baby weighed 10½ pounds and was progressing normally.

"Let us, as Canadians, resolve to put aside sectionalism and class battled; let us renounce the politics of expedience and the fruitless game of playing off one group against another; let us require of the Government that it harmonize all the various elements of the community and fashion them into a vigorous, co-operative society for the betterment of all."

John Bracken

We believe that the one essential of all national progress is national unity. A United Canada is the firm foundation on which all the far-reaching Progressive Conservative plans for post-war reconstruction are enduringly based. We are determined to achieve that unity.

THE AGE OF PLENTY IS AT OUR DOOR—if we will but unite and co-operate to make it a reality for every one of our fellow citizens.
BUT...

CANADA HAS BEEN SPLIT
APART

In time of war, Canadians "reaped the whirlwind" brought about by the King Government's manpower policies—policies that for 25 years have been fostering division and disunity.
Those policies now challenge every fair-minded Canadian. That challenge —now that V-E Day has come and gone—is the first to be faced if Canadians are to assure the unity and prosperity of this nation.

TO-DAY, THE QUESTION IS:
Shall political expediency be perpetuated?

Shall the "biggest hoax ever perpetrated on a nation" be permitted, in time of peace, to embroil Canada in new inequities, new partisan squabbles, new divisions and disunities?

OR—do YOU agree with John Bracken who bluntly states that "to give political considerations priority over the nation's interest is intolerable and unforgivable"?

CANADA FACES THE ISSUE

To-day, Canada's heritage of national disunity is too evident, too real, to be ignored. The grave crisis of war, which proverbially unites a nation, has been used as a political instrument to accentuate and inflame differences found in every human family... fostering disunity, in this our country, to serve party purposes.

The political self-seeking of the King Government's "Divide and Rule" policy has exacted a toll in sacrifice and suffering to be shared by generations to come.

UNITE—CO-OPERATE—PROSPER

Long ago, John Bracken expressed the great objective of the Progressive Conservatives. In his own words, we are setting out "to regain the unity that has been lost". Unity—Cooperation—these are the foundations of our new, progressive conception of National Prosperity in which all Canadians shall share.

WE STAND FOR—

National Unity... NOT Piecemeal
Politics seeking Political Advantage through National Disunity.

Co-operation... NOT Class Hatred, Dictatorship and Bureaucratic Tyranny.

WE BELIEVE—

- Sectionalism must come to an end, subject to the recognized rights of minorities.

- Everyone, regardless of racial origin, must be regarded as a Canadian, sharing equally the rights and obligations of Canadian citizenship.

WE DEMAND—

- In War, equality of service and sacrifice.

- In Peace, equality of opportunity for all.

GOVERNMENT POLICY

ON CONTROLS

Until general civilian supply in relation to requirements has expanded substantially, the controls associated with the economic stabilization programme will be just as necessary as ever. Any weakening in the stabilization programme at this stage would be dangerous.

Severe inflationary pressures are still ahead. Prices rose more rapidly in the first eighteen months after the last European war than during it. This time, there is even greater danger of such a development if we do not act firmly and carefully. It is only the European phase of World War II which has ended.

A large part of our resources will remain mobilized for use in the war against Japan. Even where industrial plants can be released from war production, reconversion will take time. The demand on Canadian supplies for liberated countries will be great.

These factors will limit for a time the increase in the supply of goods which can be made available for civilian use. On the other hand, there is danger that civilian spending may tend to increase more rapidly than the flow of supplies. Deferred demands for some goods are steadily accumulating. Therefore, self-imposed restraints, as well as government controls, must be maintained.

If inflation were allowed to develop, people would lose their wartime savings, or use them up without receiving decent value, and the men returning from the armed services to civilian life would not be able to buy the things they need at fair prices. Sharply rising prices in the demobilization and reconversion period would undoubtedly be followed by deflation and serious unemployment afterward. Stable prices are, therefore, essential so that as war production declines there may be a smooth and rapid adjustment to high peacetime production and employment.

A post-war inflation, followed by a violent slump, would be a disaster for almost all Canadians, but particularly for those who have to face the task of re-establishing themselves in the post-war period.

If the government did less than its utmost to maintain price stability now, it would be breaking faith with

Canada's fighting men and all others who will be seeking new jobs or whose circumstances will be changed by the ending of the war. The government is, therefore, determined to hold the line on its stabilization programme, and it is confident that this proved policy will receive unqualified public support.—Excerpts from government statement issued on May 10th, 1945, by Hon. J. L. Halsey, acting prime minister.

TOM is in the pink... DICK has retired HARRY will go places

Tom knows something about stormy weather, but he feels in the pink and his mind is at ease because his life insurance, which protects his loved ones, has weathered the strains of war and epidemics. The reserves behind his policies are regulated by law and stand guard that even in times of the gravest stress he knows he is secure.

Harry is an up-and-coming fellow who needs only opportunity to make good. He may not know it, but his own life insurance and the premiums of several million others will keep providing him and others with opportunities for years to come. Life insurance funds are invested in undertakings from coast to coast that provide employment for multitudes of people.

Dick knew nothing about life insurance reserves when he took on his first policy as a young man. But now that he has retired, he knows that the security he enjoys comes largely from the monthly income provided from his insurance—protected by reserves accumulated from his past premium payments.

LET NO ONE MISLEAD YOU!

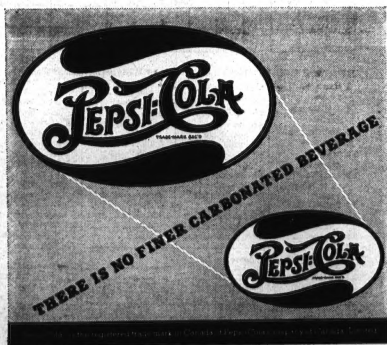

Life Insurance policy reserves represent premium dollars accumulated at interest for policyholders by life insurance companies as the necessary provision against the day when policies become claims by death, maturity or surrender. Let no one mislead you about the nature of these funds. They are NOT "surplus funds" nor do they represent "profits" in any sense of the word. Policy reserves are the exact measure of the total funds which must be held for policyholders, to be paid to them when due.

Health LEAGUE OF CANADA presents TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

FIGHT AGAINST VD. RECEIVERS RECEIVES IMPETUS

The Dominion-wide fight to stamp out venereal diseases received impetus recently when both the Saskatchewan and Alberta legislatures approved amendments to their Marriage Acts making pre-marital blood tests for syphilis compulsory. Amendments in both provinces are to come into force July 1.

These measures will uncover a lot unsuspected syphilis inasmuch as these two provinces, in common with the others, have legislation providing for compulsory treatment for known syphilis.

Pre-marital blood tests have been advocated by the Health League of Canada for many years, and their necessity was re-emphasized in the May 16-21 special "Stamp Out VD" campaign which was sponsored jointly by the League and the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association in co-operation with health departments. Pre-marital and pre-natal blood testing, if made compulsory throughout Canada, would do much to win the battle against syphilis.

Before the recent amendment was approved, Saskatchewan's Marriage Act provided that no person authorized to solemnize marriages should perform a ceremony if either of the parties, to his knowledge, was suffering from a communicable disease in a communicable state, and until each of the parties concerned had furnished a health certificate.

The amendment provides that "the medical examinations covered by such certificates shall take place within 30 days immediately preceding the date of the solemnization of the marriage and shall include a serological test for syphilis." The health certificates must be forwarded to the provincial health department by the performing officer at the ceremony within 24 hours after the ceremony.

Alberta's legislation before the recent amendment provided that no clergyman could perform a marriage ceremony after the submission of a certificate unless the parties produced affidavits that they were not at the time suffering from a venereal disease or tuberculosis. This was amended by the insertion in the affidavit of the words "to the best of his knowledge."

Under the main amendment to the Alberta Act, however, no issue of marriage licences is allowed to issue a license, nor is any clergyman allowed to publish the banns of a marriage unless there has been filed with the proper authorities a medical certificate certifying that a specimen of blood for a serological test for syphilis has been taken and has been or will be forwarded to the provincial laboratory. The test must take place within 14 days before the application for licence or first publication of banns, and a certificate to that effect filed.

The physician involved is not required to give an opinion; merely to take a blood specimen, submit it to the laboratory, and convey the result of the test to the person concerned. The laboratory is required to report all positive tests to the Director of

War Aces Become T.C.A. Pilots

After six weeks at T.C.A.'s flight training school at the Winnipeg operations headquarters, repatriated R.C.A.F. flyers graduate as first officers, and later captains.

The above picture shows a group of repatriated men receiving instructions in radio range flying. In the centre of the table is the "crab," also known as Charlie McCarthy, which records the line of flight as done by one of the students in the Link trainer.

Learning to fly the T.C.A. way, even though repatriated men are seasoned flyers, needs six weeks of highly concentrated post-graduate study.

As first officers, these pilots must know their craft from the simplest pre-take-off procedure to the most complicated details of navigation and mechanical limits. This is an undertaking of large proportions and ex-R.C.A.F. officers, put in a ten-hour week-day throughout the course.

Palmer, Ottawa; P.O. E. E. Edwards, Port Arthur; J. Meakin, T.C.A.'s chief ground instructor, flight training; P.O. J. T. Plouffe, Toronto.

Air Future Bright

Canadian Pacific Airlines Official Says Canada Can Lead World

"Canada can lead the world in aviation and can provide gainful employment for 90 per cent. of the men in the R.C.A.F. if she adopts a progressive international aviation policy," Grant McConachie, western Canadian manager for Canadian Pacific Airlines, told 100 delegates at the first B.C. provincial air conference in Kamloops, B.C.

Mr. McConachie said that if Canada hopes to get her rightful share of post-war business in the air, she must provide service equal to or better than that of any other nation. "We have the fliers," he said. "None are better than our Canadian boys. We have technicians, the ground crews, the maintenance men, but we must have good aircraft too. If we have that and a far-sighted policy we can become as great a trading nation in the air as Holland was on the seas a few centuries ago."

Gave More Power

British Scientists Produced Super-Fuel For R.A.F. Fighter Planes

British scientists in 1943 produced a "super-fuel"—greatly superior to 100-octane fuel—which gave R.A.F. fighters 20 per cent. more power and enabled them to catch and destroy many of the German flying boats aimed at Britain, the ministry of aircraft production has disclosed.

All Allied requirements for the new fuel, known as ISO-Octane, were met by British refineries.

Preliminary steps to ensure that the R.A.F. could count on supplies of ordinary 100-octane fuel were taken before the war began, the ministry said. Now government plants in Britain alone yield more than 150,000,000 gallons of aviation fuel annually.

In both provinces, the medical examination and blood test may be waived under certain extenuating circumstances, but only on approval of the Minister of Health.

Former Italian Liner Can Carry More Than 420 Cases

The former Italian liner Gerusalemme now is a naval hospital ship. Her conversion was carried out in Durban, South Africa, and she now is considered the most modern hospital ship in Union waters. The ship can carry more than 420 cases in her 14 wards. The liner lay unused at Laurence Marques for four years after she had managed to reach that port at the end of a chase by bombers of the South African Air Force at the outbreak of war with Italy. She was brought to Durban after Italy's capitulation.

THE MINISTRY OF JESUS

Memory Selection: I am the light of the world; he that followeth me shall not walk in the darkness, but shall have the light of life.—John 8:12.
Lesson: Matthew; Mark; Luke; John.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 61:1-9.

THE LESSON OUTLINE

The Political Authorities in Power during the Life of Jesus. Palestine was under Roman rule when Jesus was born. Herod the Great died in 4 B.C. and his kingdom was divided among his three sons. Archelaus received Judaea and Samaria; Herod Antipas, Galilee and Peraea; Philip, Tureau and Trachonitis east of the Jordan.

Archelaus was removed in 6 A.D. His territory, united with the province of Syria, was under a procurator until 41 A.D. Herod Antipas was given the title of tetrarch and ruled until 37 A.D. He is the Herod most frequently mentioned in the Gospel accounts. He it was who imprisoned John the Baptist, and he was the one to whom Philip sent Jesus during his trial. Philip ruled until 33 or 34 A.D. He built the city of Caesarea Philippi, in whose neighborhood Peter proclaimed Jesus to be the Christ.

The Religious Authority. Under the Romans a measure of self-government was allowed the Jews which was vested in the Sanhedrin, a court of 71 priests, scribes and elders presided over by the high priest. The Sanhedrin exercised administrative and judicial as well as religious functions.

To the priests, the official representatives of religion, its outward form was important, but its inward spiritual content was neglected. They prized mint and anise and cummin, but were indifferent to the claims of justice and mercy. Against their loveless religion Jesus waged continual warfare. Here Is a Man. Here is a man who was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in an obscure village. He worked in a carpenter shop until he was 30, and then for three years he was an itinerant teacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office. He never owned a home. He never had a family. He never travelled two hundred miles from the place where he was born. He never did one of the things that usually accompany greatness.

Here Is a Man. Here is a man who had nothing to do with this world except the power of his divine nature. He had no power of his own. He was turned over to his enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was sentenced to death. He was crucified. He was buried. He was raised from the dead. He is the Centrepiece of the human race and the Leader of the clan of progress.—Phillips Brooks.

ORIGINAL "HAW-HAW"—An English traitor who calls himself the original "Lord Haw Haw" was exposed as an interpreter for an American military government official, Norman Baillie Stewart (above), former British officer who spent five years in the Tower of London for "selling his country for 50 pounds," admitted after he was exposed, that he worked for the German propaganda ministry and the foreign office for the last five years.

The Perfect Tribute

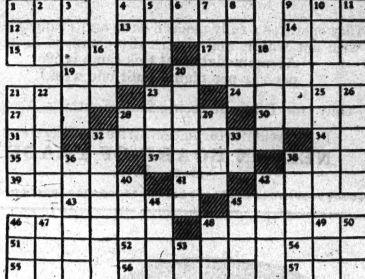

Was Paid To David Livingstone By Scottish University Students

David Livingstone, missionary to Africa, was to receive an honorary degree from a Scottish university, where it is the custom to make sport of such candidates, the students sitting in the balcony and calling out raucous remarks. If he is a wealthy soap manufacturer who has made a handsome gift to the university, he may be greeted with, "Hi, Old Soap-Maker." When Livingstone was to appear for a degree, many wondered how the students would contrive to humiliate him. His appearance was anything but prepossessing, weary and worn. As his name was called the students varied their procedure, raising to stand in absolute silence, their tribute to one whom they recognized as great.

A Final Appeal To Labor--

We Preach Unity--Now is the Time To Practice it!!

We are well aware that the only chance of getting a Labor Government in Ottawa is by Electing the C.C.F.

Do You Want An Old-Party Government ?

There are several parties to vote for in Alberta, but only the old parties and the C.C.F. have a sufficient number of candidates in the field to elect a government.

Unless there is a C.C.F. government there will be an Old Party government.

A vote cast for any party but the C.C.F. will help keep the Old Parties in power.

Remember, it is a post-war, peace-time government you'll elect on June 11th. The record of the Old Parties in peace is one of poverty on the farms. (When the King government reduced the price of wheat to 70 cents, F.O.B. Ft. William, in 1939, it was the lowest price in any but two years of the previous half century!)

The C.C.F. Program is:

1. Keep the industries running to supply Canadians with a high standard of living.
2. Provide jobs for all at useful work to improve the Canadian standard of living.
3. Guaranteed farm prices that will give farm families a fair share of the national income.
4. Social Security for all, old age pensions at 60, free health services.

Are You Easily Scared ?

Big Business is counting on frightening you into putting their political servants back into power to give you the kind of post-war government you had before the war. Remember, the people who are paying for the anti-C.C.F. blitz are the people who gave you two cents for your cattle and twenty cents for wheat in pre-war years. They think if you can be scared against the C.C.F. you will forget to be scared of the real dangers which they have in store for you. They are counting on you being easily scared.

Your Choice is an Old Party Government or the C.C.F.
